It's not what YOU earn
that makes you RICH
but what you save

Then why don't you start saving now? A Dollar in bank is an obstinate thing—it stays put. Can you say as much if it's in your pocket? Does your pocket pay interest—does it give you the self-respect and confidence in the future that a gradually increasing bank account does? The road to prosperity is before you—start saving with a $1 deposit. You'll be surprised to see how the habit grows. So does the deposit.

MORNING NEWS ADS BRING RESULTS.

IT WAS FRIDAY

BUT EVERHART DID NOT THINK
IT WAS UNLUCKY.

Remarkable Incident Just the Day
Before the Akron Man Met His Death in Auto Collision.

In noticing the death of John V. Everhart in the auto accident near here the Akron Times-Democrat of Saturday says:

"Funeral services over the remains of John V. Everhart, whose death occurred Friday afternoon as a result of a collision of his automobile with a Canton-Akron electric car, near Canton, will be held at his late residence, 449 East Buchtel avenue, Sunday at 2 p.m. The Masons will have charge of the services. Interment will be in Glendale cemetery.

"Mr. Everhart's remains were brought to the city Friday evening.

"Mr. Everhart was 34 years, 1 month and 20 days old. He was born and raised in Akron. His father, James Everhart, is well known, and for many years resided at the corner of East Market and Spruce streets. Mr. Everhart was in West Salem when he heard of his son's death, late Friday evening, and was unable to get a train home. He spent a sleepless night. Beside his father, Mr. Everhart is survived by a widow, who was Miss Iona Henninger, and three children—two sons, five and three years of age, and daughter one year old and a brother, Oliver Everhart of this city.

"Mr. Everhart had been in the real estate business four years. He was one of the most successful young business men of the city. His office was located in the American Cereal Co. building, corner of Howard and Mill streets. Mr. Everhart was a graduate of the public schools and the Akron High school. Shortly after leaving school he went into business, working for different firms until he could begin business for himself.

"A somewhat remarkable incident in connection with the death of Mr. Everhart is that only the day before he went to Canton, he was talking with a friend, and there was some discussion of the fact that Friday was considered an unlucky day.

"I do not see that Friday is any different from any other day," said Mr. Everhart, and it is stated that he was going to Canton Friday on a business trip. He went to Canton and the rest is known."

A LITTLE SPOONFUL

Better Than a Piece of Meat Big as His Hand.

"I can do more hard work on one little old spoonful of Grape-Nuts than I can on a slice of meat as big as my hand.

It was this remark made by a neighbor who is a conductor on the Santa Fe railroad, that first induced me to try Grape-Nuts food; and now that I have tried it I am quite with him in his high appreciation of what I regard as the most perfect food production on the market today.

"The letter comes from Wellington, Kan., and the writer continues:

"My neighbor said he was worn out from working nights and eating all kinds of stuff at all hours of the day and night, until his condition compelled him to take a 'lay off.' Then he began to eat Grape-Nuts, and says that from that moment his strength rapidly returned to him. He is now working eleven hours a day and does not feel it.

"I was glad he told me, for I had been suffering for a long time from stomach trouble which came from food that was not suited to me. I had been compelled to give up my housework for a time, and that was a great hardship to me, for I hate to have a hired girl around the house.

"Very soon the benefits of the change in my diet began to manifest themselves; my stomach was restored—the Grape-Nuts seemed to go right to work to putting it in order again and now I can eat anything. My strength came back to me, and in a little more than a month I was able to let the hired girl go. For more than 3 months now I have been doing all my housework, and you will understand that that is no small matter when I tell you that I have a family of six to do for, my oldest child being 9 and my youngest only 5 months.

"I actually feel better, doing all that work on Grape-Nuts Food, than I did in the years I ate greasy food and had a girl to take the burden off of me."

LOOKED IN THE GUN

IT WAS DISCHARGED, KILLING
YOUNG BAIR.

Sad Fatality at North Industry—Boy
Only 13 Years Old Killed in Hunting Accident.

North Industry, Nov. 25.—George Bair, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bair, was accidentally shot and killed on Saturday afternoon.

George and a companion, Roland Hudson, had gone to hunt rabbits and becoming tired stopped to shoot at a mark. The first report was that the gun was in the hands of Roland Hudson when the accident occurred, but this proved to be a mistake. Young Hudson says that George asked for his gun, it being a shotgun, while Bair carried a rifle, and as he handed it over, Bair jammed it on the ground and looked in the barrel. The next he knew he was holding Bair with one hand and the gun with the other. Hudson ran for home with the gun in his hand. He was so much overcome by excitement and exhaustion as to be unable to talk for a while, but finally succeeded in telling his story. Neighbors and the doctor found the wounded boy in a field about half a mile south of town. Because his mother has been seriously ill for seven or eight weeks the body was taken to the Hotel Breckinridge.

Friends called all day Sunday to view the remains. Mrs. Bair is in much better condition after the shock than any one could hope for. George was one of the best boys in North Industry. He stood first in his class in school and was liked by every one.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon. Interment will be at Sparta.

The boy will be buried at Sparta today.

AT HIGH SPEED

The Train Was Moving When the Engineer Was Found Dead in His Cab.

Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 25.—William R. Perdue, an engineer on the Norfolk & Western railroad, was found dead in the cab of his engine with his hand on the throttle, by his foreman, J. D. Williams, today. Extraordinary high speed being attained by the train caused Fireman Williams to rush around to the engineer's side of the engine and he was horrified at the awful spectacle of the engineer's head burst open, the brains dropping into his lap. There is mystery surrounding the affair. It was at first thought that he had leaned too far out of the cab window and struck a switch target. It is claimed that Perdue was struck in the head with a boulder thrown by some one by the track side.
